

CLIENT PRE-PROCEDURE PRECAUTIONS

Booking information for Brow Lamination, Consultation, Lash Lift,
Lip Blush, Nano Brows and Ombre Brows

! IMPORTANT SAFETY NOTE

- This guide supports booking and consultation. It does not diagnose a condition or replace advice from a doctor, dermatologist, eye-care professional or prescribing clinician.
- Final suitability must be confirmed by a trained practitioner after reviewing the client form and treatment area.
- Never stop or change prescribed medicine - including anticoagulants, aspirin prescribed for a medical reason, steroids, isotretinoin or other prescription skin treatments - unless the prescribing clinician approves it.

How clients should use this guide

- Read the general rules first, then read the section for the service being booked.
- Answer all health and allergy questions honestly before paying an advance or confirming the appointment.
- Contact the salon before booking when any condition listed under "postpone or request clearance" applies.
- Follow the practitioner's final instructions when they differ because a product manufacturer, medical condition or salon policy requires stricter care.

Services covered

1. Consultation	2. Brow Lamination	3. Lash Lift
4. Lip Blush	5. Nano Brows	6. Ombre Brows

General Rules Before Any Appointment

These rules apply to every service. Permanent makeup procedures also have additional requirements because pigment is implanted into the skin and carries risks such as infection, allergic reaction, scarring and dissatisfaction. [1][2]

! POSTPONE AND CONTACT THE SALON

- You have fever, a contagious illness, or feel medically unwell.
- The treatment area has an active infection, rash, swelling, open wound, cut, burn, sunburn, cold sore or severe irritation.
- You recently had surgery, laser treatment, microneedling, chemical peeling, cosmetic injections or another procedure near the treatment area and have not been cleared.
- You had a positive patch test or a previous serious reaction to a similar product or service.
- You cannot comfortably remain still for the required service time.

Disclose before booking

- Allergies or sensitivities to hair dye, tint, adhesives, perming products, pigments, latex, antiseptics or topical anaesthetics.
- Pregnancy, breastfeeding, planned pregnancy or recent childbirth. The salon may postpone elective services according to product, insurance or practitioner policy.
- Diabetes, bleeding or clotting disorders, immune suppression, poor wound healing, history of keloid scars, fainting, seizures or uncontrolled medical conditions.
- Current medicines and supplements, especially anticoagulants, prescribed aspirin, steroids, isotretinoin, antibiotics, prescription retinoids and medicines that affect skin or healing.
- Previous permanent makeup, tattooing, filler, botulinum toxin, facial surgery, eye surgery or significant reaction to a beauty procedure.

Patch tests

A patch or sensitivity test should be completed when required by the salon or product instructions, commonly 24-48 hours before a first brow-lamination or lash-lift appointment. A negative patch test reduces concern but cannot guarantee that a reaction will not occur during the full treatment. [3][4][5]

Day-of-appointment basics

- Arrive on time with clean skin in the treatment area and follow the service-specific makeup instructions below.
- Eat normally and stay hydrated, especially before longer permanent makeup appointments.
- Avoid arriving after drinking alcohol or using recreational drugs.
- Tell the practitioner immediately if your health, medication, pregnancy status or skin condition changed after booking.

i MEDICATION RULE

- Do not take extra aspirin, ibuprofen or other medicine only to prepare for the appointment unless a healthcare professional tells you to.
- Do not stop a medically required medicine to qualify for a cosmetic service. The appointment should be adjusted or postponed instead.

Consultation 30 minutes*Shape, colour and treatment-planning session*

A consultation is the safest starting point when the client is unsure which procedure is suitable or has previous permanent makeup, sensitive skin, a medical condition or a history of reactions.

Prepare for the consultation

- Complete the health, allergy and previous-treatment questions honestly before attending.
- Bring reference photos and clear information about any previous permanent makeup or removal work.
- List current skincare products, relevant medicines and any planned filler, botulinum toxin, laser, peel, surgery, dental treatment, travel or important event.
- Usual makeup may be worn to show personal style, but be prepared for it to be removed during assessment.
- Treatment is not guaranteed on the consultation day unless it was specifically booked and every safety requirement has been met.

Brow Lamination 60 minutes*Chemical reshaping and setting of natural brow hair*

Brow lamination chemically changes the brow hairs. Active skin disease, broken skin, weak hair and reactions to the products can make treatment unsuitable. [5]

WHEN

CLIENT PREPARATION

5-7 days before

- Avoid waxing, threading, dermaplaning, strong exfoliation or chemical peels directly around the brows.
- Avoid bleaching or another strong chemical brow service unless the practitioner confirms the timing is safe.
- Pause non-prescription retinol, AHA or BHA products directly around the brow area when your skin tolerates doing so. Ask the prescriber before changing a prescription product.

24-48 hours before

- Complete the salon patch test when required. Do not proceed after redness, itching, swelling, blistering or another reaction.
- Do not scratch, pick or irritate the brow area.

Appointment day

- Arrive with clean, dry brows and no brow makeup, oil, heavy moisturiser or self-tan on the treatment area.
- Do not trim, shave or reshape the brows immediately before the appointment.
- Tell the practitioner if the brow hair feels brittle, has recently been overprocessed or is shedding.

! POSTPONE BROW LAMINATION

- Active eczema, dermatitis, psoriasis, infection, sores, open wounds, cuts, burns, swelling or sunburn around the brows.
- A recent or unhealed brow tattoo/microblading procedure, recent facial or eye-area surgery, or a positive patch test.
- Very weak or damaged brow hair, or a previous reaction to a similar lifting/lamination product.

Lash Lift 60 minutes

Chemical lifting and curling of the natural eyelashes

Lash-lift chemicals are used close to the eye. Reported concerns include allergic reactions, irritation, infection and damage from overprocessing. A trained professional and a prior patch test are important safeguards. [3][4]

WHEN	CLIENT PREPARATION
24-48 hours before	- Complete the required patch test and report any redness, itching, rash or swelling. - Avoid waterproof mascara, strip lashes and aggressive eye-makeup removal so the lashes are clean and not stressed. - Arrange removal of lash extensions before the appointment; do not pull them off yourself.
Appointment day	- Arrive with no mascara, eyeliner, eyeshadow, eye cream, cleansing oil or oily makeup remover on the lashes or eyelids. - Remove contact lenses before treatment and bring glasses. Contact lenses should not remain in during the service. [4] - Tell the practitioner about eye drops, dry-eye treatment, allergies, recent eye procedures and any discomfort that started after booking.
During service	- Keep the eyes closed and remain still as directed. - Immediately report burning, sharp pain, strong stinging, breathing difficulty, facial swelling or product entering the eye.

! DO NOT PROCEED UNTIL CLEARED

- Conjunctivitis, a sty, blepharitis, keratitis, active eye infection, eyelid inflammation, severe watery/dry eyes or an eczema/dermatitis flare around the eyelids.
- Recent eye, face or head surgery; difficulty fully closing the eyes; very weak, brittle or recently overprocessed lashes.
- A positive patch test or a previous serious reaction to lash-lift, tint, adhesive or eye-pad products.

i CLIENT REMINDER

- A patch test does not guarantee that the eye area will not react during treatment.
- Clients with glaucoma, significant dry-eye disease, recent chemotherapy or other eye disease should seek medical clearance before booking.

Lip Blush 180 minutes*Cosmetic tattooing that deposits pigment into the lips*

Lip blush breaks the skin barrier and can cause infection, allergic reaction, swelling or scarring. Lip procedures may also reactivate herpes simplex (cold sores), including in clients whose last outbreak was many years ago. [1][2][6]

WHEN	CLIENT PREPARATION
2-4 weeks before	- Tell the practitioner about recent or planned lip filler, facial injections, laser, peel, surgery or dental treatment. The salon may require a safe interval or written clearance. - Avoid tanning and protect the lips from sunburn. - Do not book over unhealed lip tattooing, removal work or injured skin.
7 days before	- Keep the lips comfortably moisturised and do not pick, bite or aggressively scrub them. - Avoid harsh exfoliants, non-prescription retinol and strong acids directly around the lips for about 5-7 days. Do not change prescription treatment without the prescriber. - Inform the salon immediately if tingling, a blister, cold sore, crack, rash or infection appears.
Cold-sore history	- Disclose any past cold sore, fever blister or HSV-1 diagnosis - even if it happened only once or many years ago. - Ask a doctor or qualified prescriber whether preventive antiviral medicine is appropriate for cosmetic lip tattooing, and follow the exact prescribed timing. Do not use leftover medicine or copy another client's dose. [6]
24 hours before	- Avoid alcohol and limit excessive caffeine because both may increase sensitivity or make the session less comfortable. - Do not take extra aspirin, ibuprofen or another blood-thinning product solely for the appointment. Never stop prescribed medicine without approval.
Appointment day	- Eat a normal meal, drink water and arrive with clean lips and no lipstick, gloss or lip stain. - Bring the preferred lip-colour references, but understand that healed colour depends on natural lip tone and healing. - Tell the practitioner about any new swelling, illness, medicine or skin change before treatment starts.

! POSTPONE LIP BLUSH

- An active cold sore, tingling that usually precedes a cold sore, cracked or bleeding lips, infection, rash, open wound, severe dryness or sunburn.
- Recent filler, surgery or another procedure that has not been cleared by the responsible practitioner.
- Pregnancy/breastfeeding or a medical condition for which the salon requires clearance under its policy.
- Uncontrolled diabetes, immune suppression, bleeding disorder, keloid tendency or prescribed anticoagulant use without appropriate assessment.

Nano Brows 180 minutes*Machine-created hair-stroke cosmetic tattooing*

Nano brows are a form of permanent makeup. The client should understand that the result is long-lasting, removal can be difficult, and infection or allergic reactions are possible. [1][2]

WHEN	CLIENT PREPARATION
2-4 weeks before	- Avoid laser resurfacing, microneedling, chemical peels or another invasive skin procedure directly around the brows unless cleared. - Tell the practitioner about recent or planned botulinum toxin, filler, brow lift, facial surgery or tattoo-removal work because these can affect mapping and final appearance. [2] - Protect the brow area from tanning and sunburn.
5-7 days before	- Do not wax, thread, tint, bleach or aggressively exfoliate the brows. - Pause non-prescription retinol, AHA, BHA and strong exfoliating products directly around the brows when safe. Ask the prescriber before changing prescription products. - Do not pick acne, scabs or irritated skin in the treatment area.
24-48 hours before	- Avoid alcohol and limit excessive caffeine. - Avoid intense exercise immediately before the appointment because heat and sweating can increase sensitivity. - Do not take extra aspirin, ibuprofen or similar products for the appointment; prescribed medication must not be stopped without medical approval.
Appointment day	- Eat a normal meal and arrive hydrated. - Arrive with clean skin and no brow makeup, heavy moisturiser, oil, self-tan or numbing cream unless the practitioner specifically supplied it. - Do not pre-draw or shave the brows. Bring reference photos and allow the practitioner to map the shape before consent.

! POSTPONE NANO BROWS

- Active acne lesions, eczema/psoriasis/dermatitis flare, infection, open wound, cut, burn, swelling or sunburn in the brow area.
- Unhealed previous permanent makeup or removal work, recent surgery, or a known pigment/anaesthetic allergy not assessed by the practitioner.
- Current isotretinoin or another prescription treatment that may thin or significantly alter the skin unless the prescribing clinician and practitioner approve proceeding.
- Pregnancy/breastfeeding, uncontrolled medical conditions, poor healing, immune suppression, bleeding disorder or keloid history when clearance is required.

i SUITABILITY NOTE

- Skin type, previous pigment, scar tissue and natural brow hair affect whether nano hair strokes will heal clearly. The consultation may recommend another technique instead.

Ombre Brows 150 minutes*Shaded or powder-effect cosmetic tattooing*

Ombre brows use a machine to implant pigment in a shaded pattern. The same skin-healing and infection-control precautions used for other permanent makeup procedures apply. [1][2]

WHEN	CLIENT PREPARATION
2-4 weeks before	- Avoid laser, microneedling, chemical peels and invasive treatments around the brows unless cleared. - Disclose recent or planned botulinum toxin, filler, facial surgery, previous permanent makeup or tattoo removal so mapping can be planned safely. - Avoid tanning and prevent sunburn on the forehead and brow area.
5-7 days before	- Do not wax, thread, tint or bleach the brows. - Avoid strong exfoliation and pause non-prescription retinol/AHA/BHA directly around the brows when safe. Prescription products require prescriber advice. - Do not pick or squeeze spots around the planned shape.
24-48 hours before	- Avoid alcohol and limit excessive caffeine. - Do not take non-required blood-thinning medicines or supplements simply for the appointment; do not stop medically required treatment. - Avoid an intense workout immediately before the procedure.
Appointment day	- Eat, hydrate and arrive with clean skin and no brow makeup, oil, self-tan or unapproved numbing product. - Bring preferred shape and colour references, but approve the mapped outline before pigment is implanted. - Report any new illness, medicine, rash, wound or skin sensitivity before treatment begins.

! POSTPONE OMBRE BROWS

- Active infection, rash, dermatitis, eczema/psoriasis flare, open wound, cut, burn, severe acne lesion or sunburn in the treatment area.
- Unhealed permanent makeup or removal work, recent surgery or an unassessed previous allergic reaction.
- A condition or medicine that may increase bleeding, infection risk, poor healing or scarring until the practitioner receives the required medical information or clearance.

Client understanding before permanent makeup

- The first session may require a later perfecting/touch-up appointment after full healing.
- Colour and shape may change as swelling settles and the skin heals.
- Perfect symmetry cannot be guaranteed because faces are naturally asymmetrical.
- Permanent makeup can fade or change colour, but removal may still be difficult, expensive and incomplete.

Recommended Booking-System Acknowledgment

Show the relevant service instructions before the client confirms the booking or pays the advance. Require the client to tick each statement rather than displaying one hidden terms link.

- ☐ I have read the general rules and the pre-care instructions for the service I selected.
- ☐ I have answered the health, medicine, allergy, pregnancy and previous-procedure questions truthfully.
- ☐ I will contact the salon if I develop an infection, rash, wound, eye problem, cold sore, illness or another contraindication before my appointment.
- ☐ I understand that I must not stop or change prescribed medicine without approval from the prescribing clinician.
- ☐ I understand that a patch test, consultation or medical clearance may be required before the service can proceed.
- ☐ I understand that the practitioner may postpone or refuse treatment when it is not safe or the preparation instructions were not followed.

SYSTEM BEHAVIOUR RECOMMENDATION

- When a client answers "Yes" to a safety question, do not automatically reject the booking. Show "Contact the salon before payment" and route the booking for manual review.
- Store the version of the precautions accepted, the acceptance timestamp and the client's answers for audit purposes.
- Send the same service-specific instructions in the confirmation message and again 48 hours before the appointment.

i FINAL REVIEW BEFORE USE

- Have the salon owner and qualified practitioner review this guide against the exact products used, their manufacturer instructions, professional insurance conditions and applicable local requirements.
- Keep the booking text short on-screen, with an option to open the full instructions. Do not hide essential postponement warnings inside general terms and conditions.
